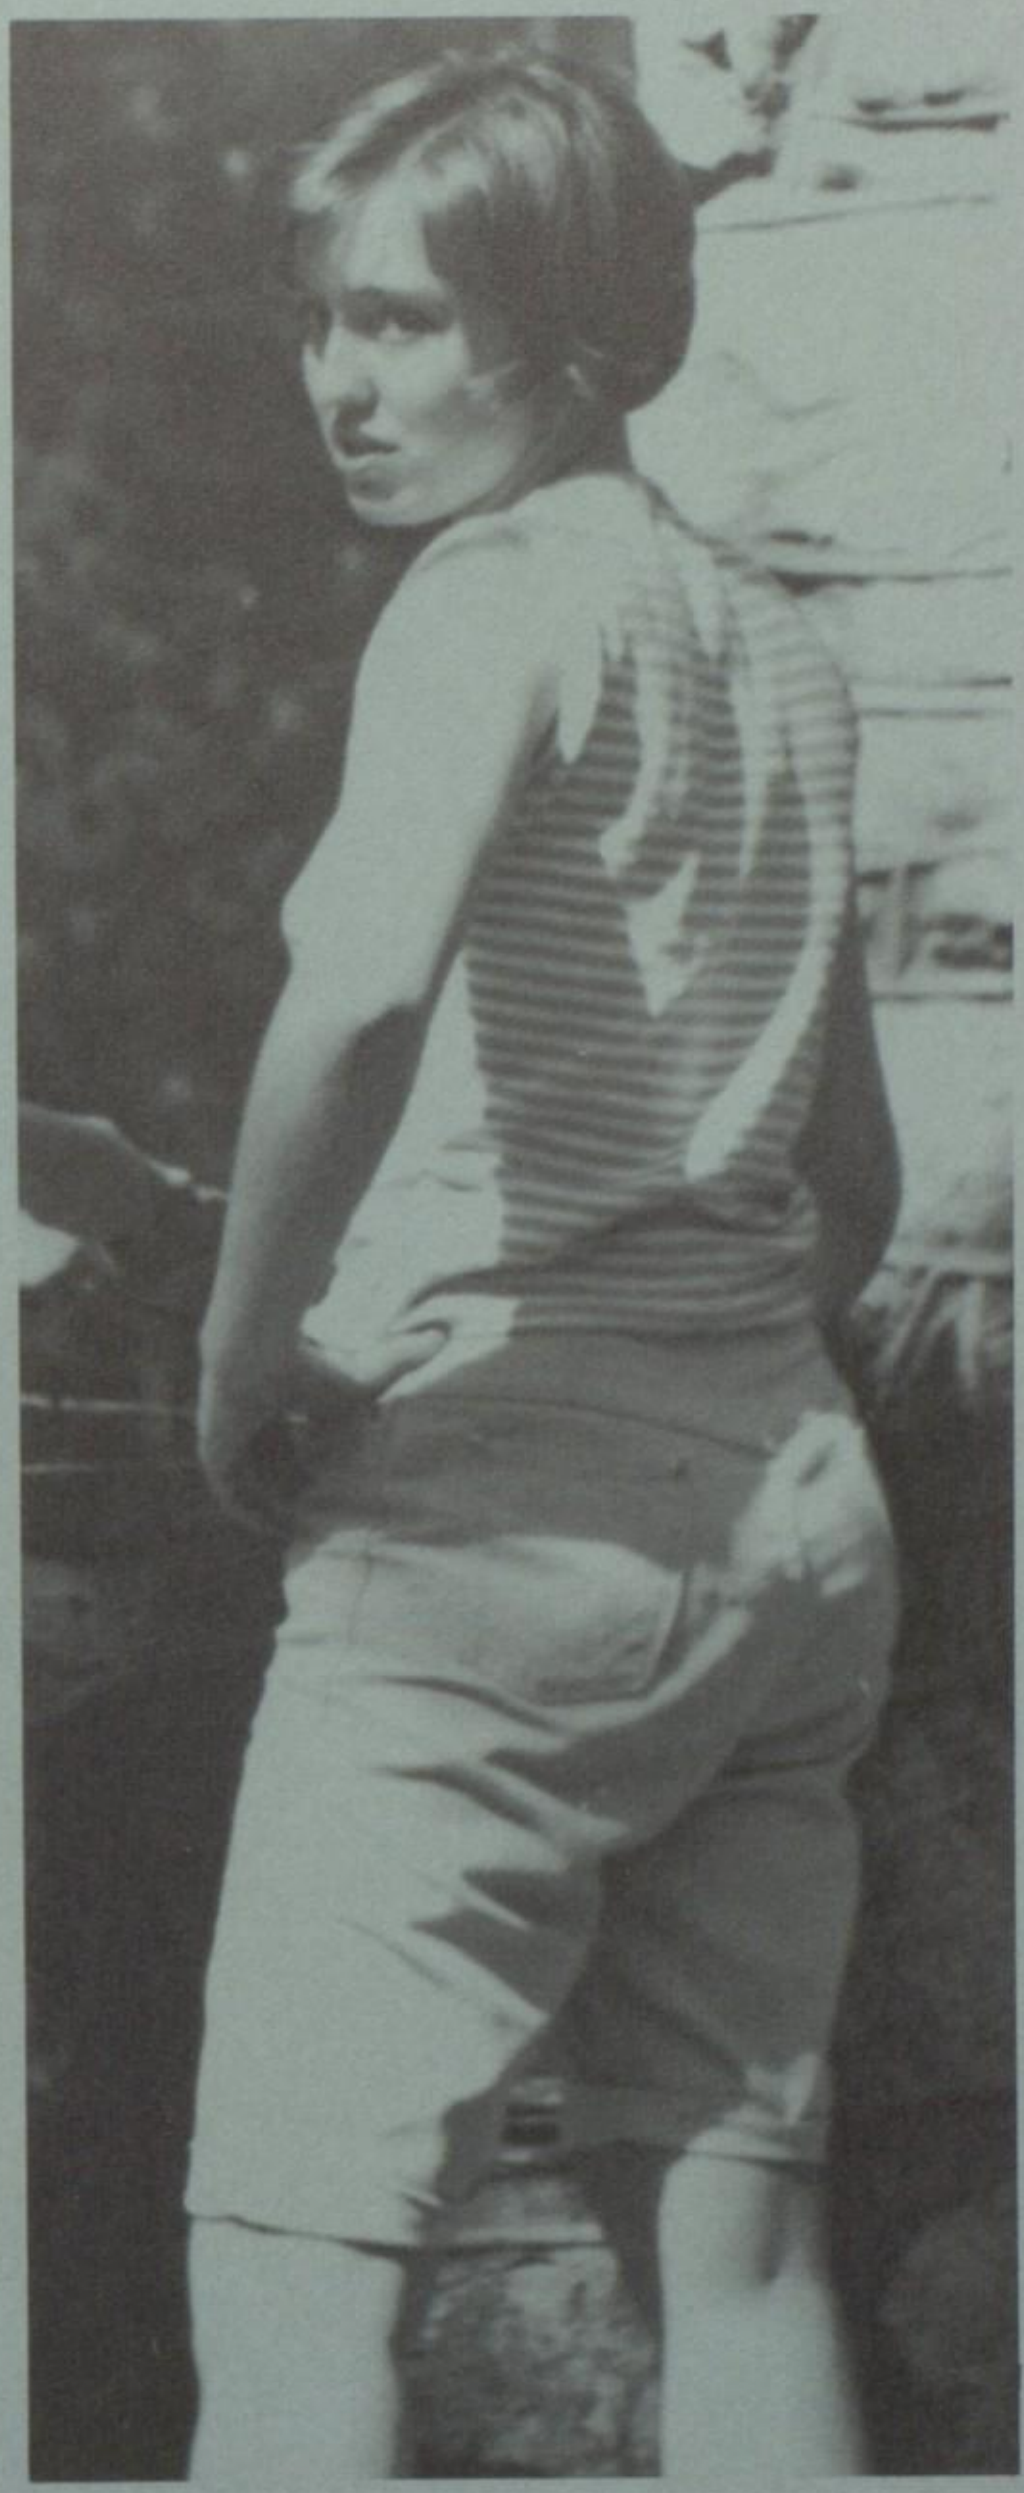
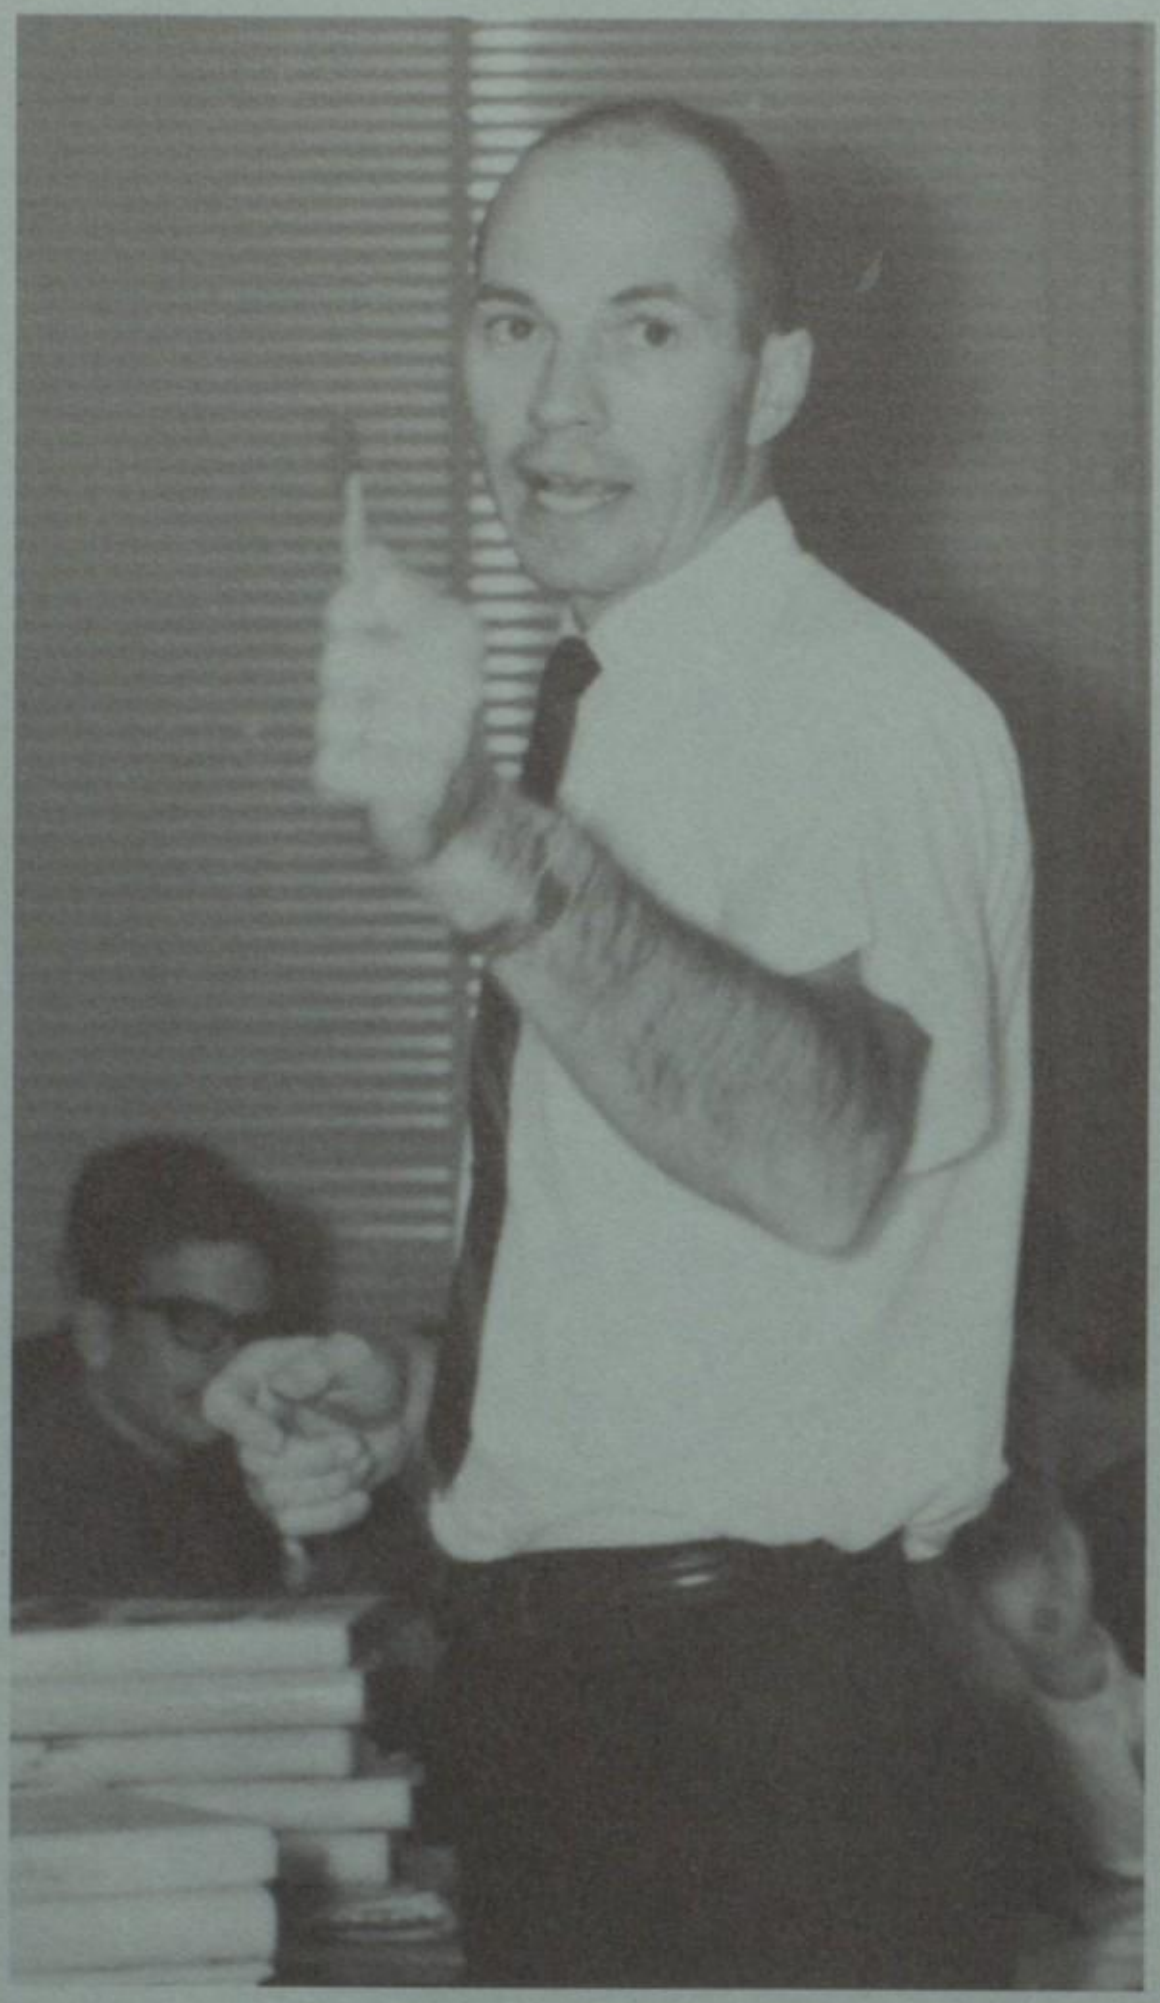
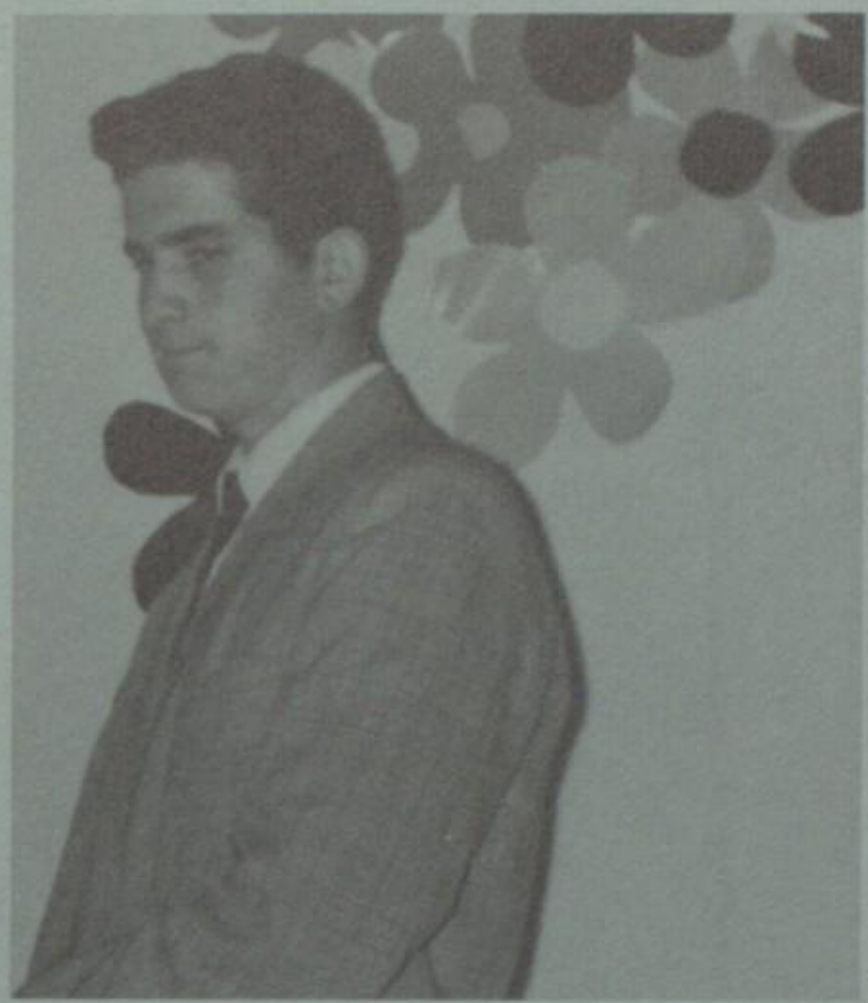
born of Love; crawling, advancing to walking and on into freedom on the run. from elders you learn, and in time you discern, by being taught to think, that now you are on that brink, near life on your own . . .

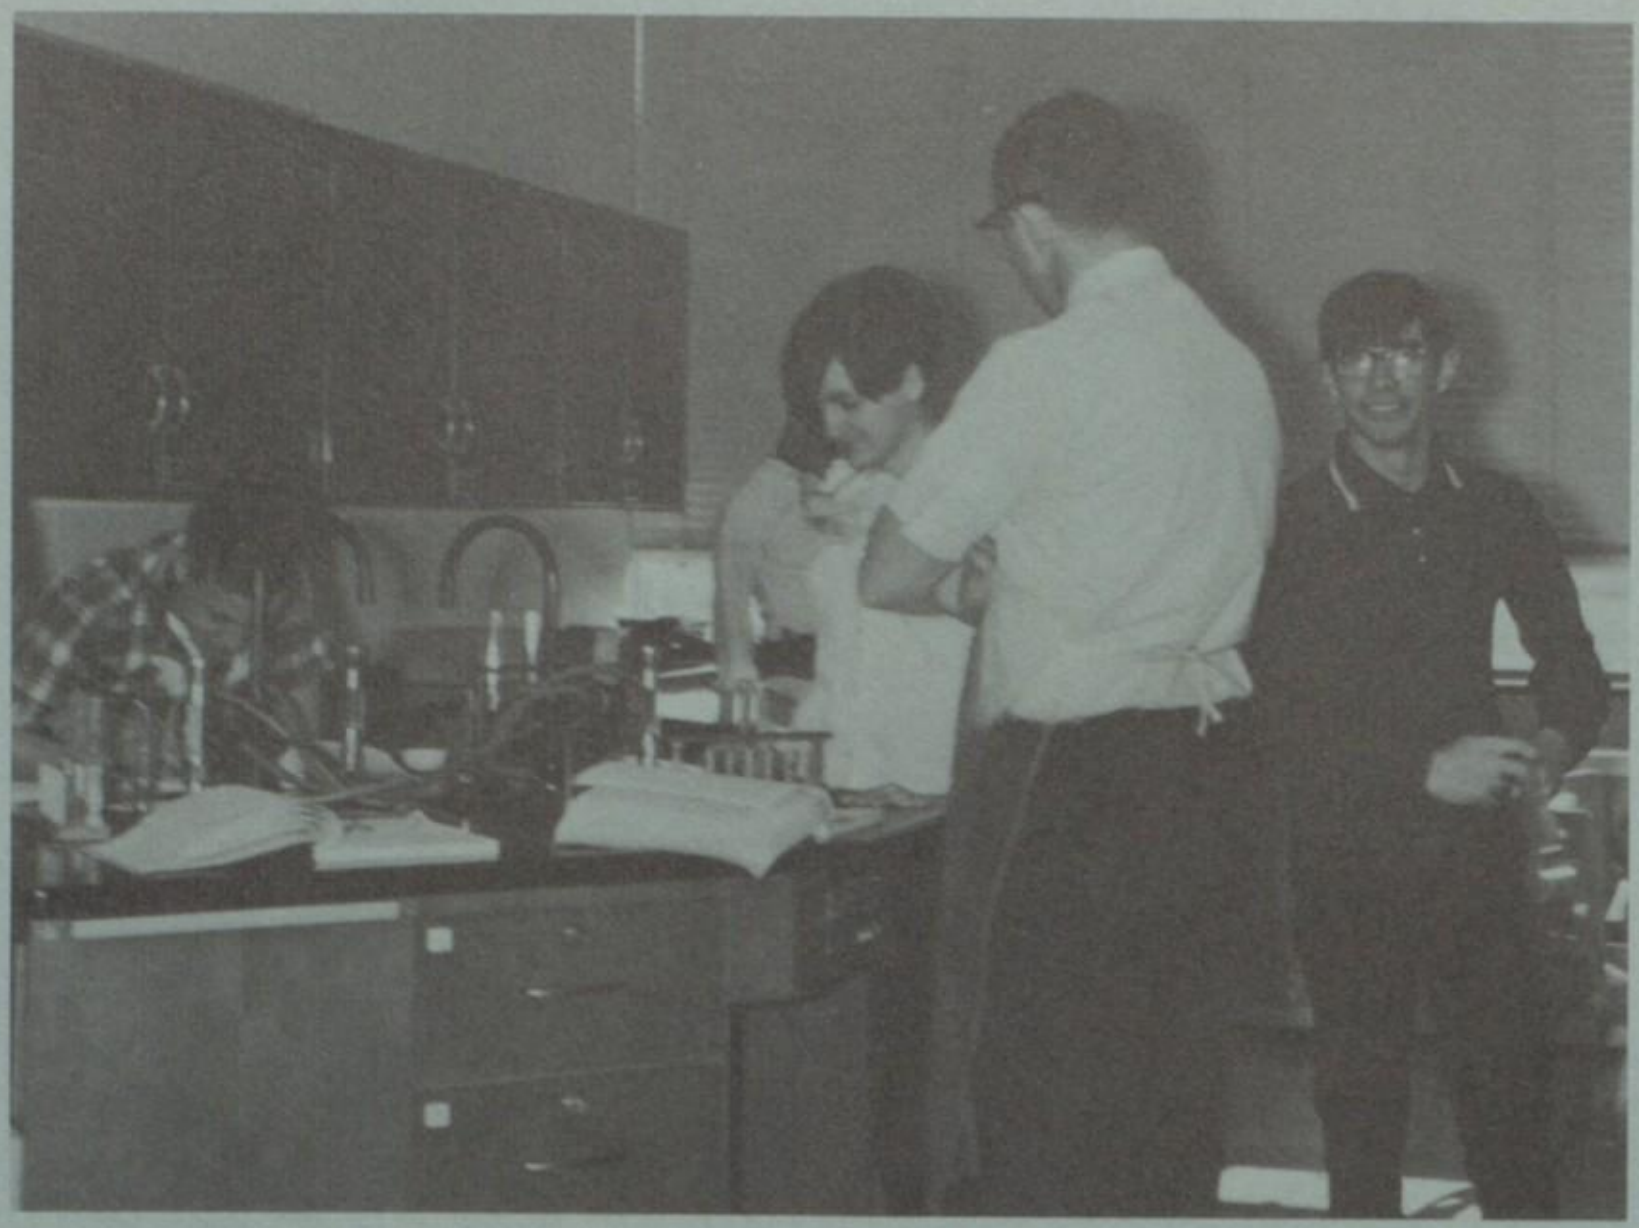
PEPSI



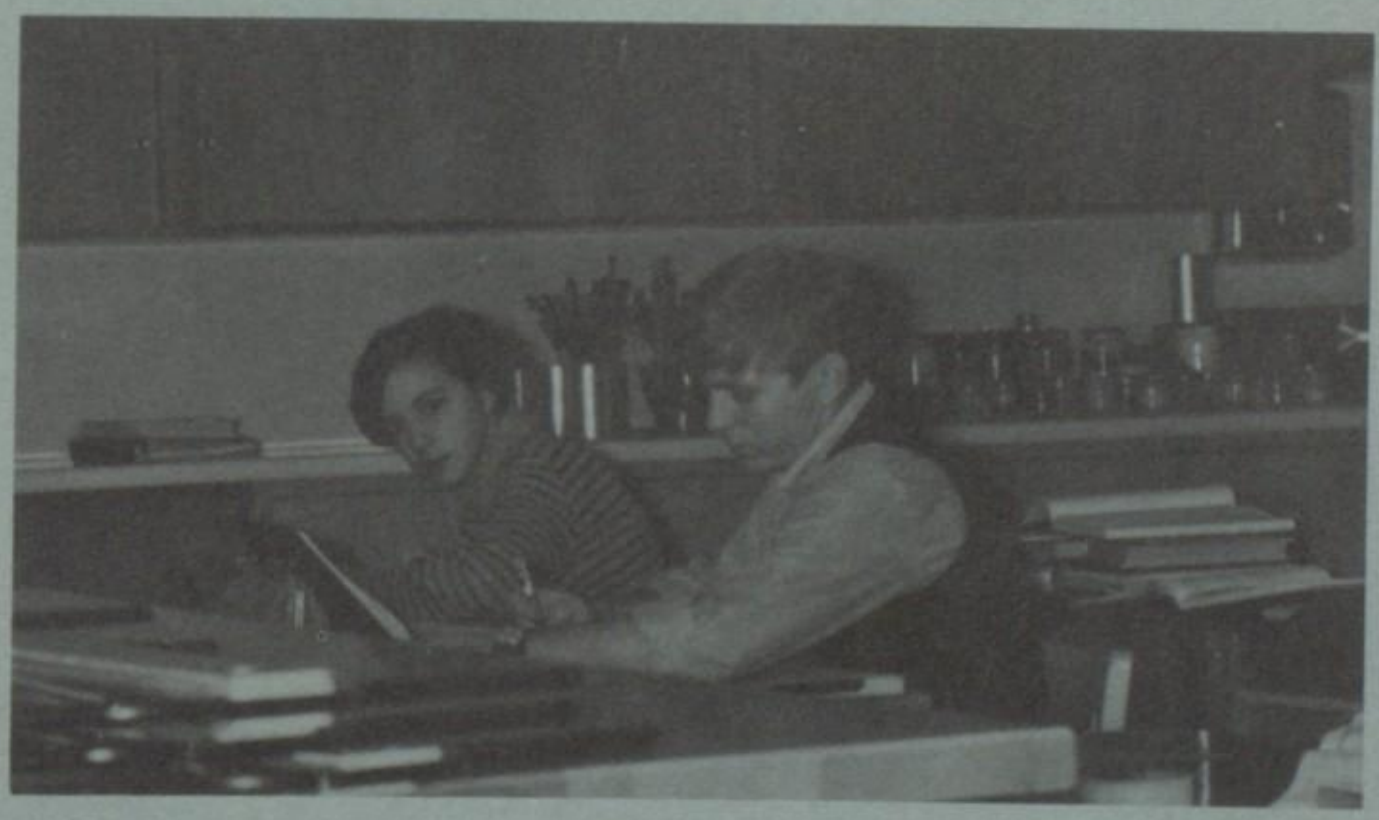




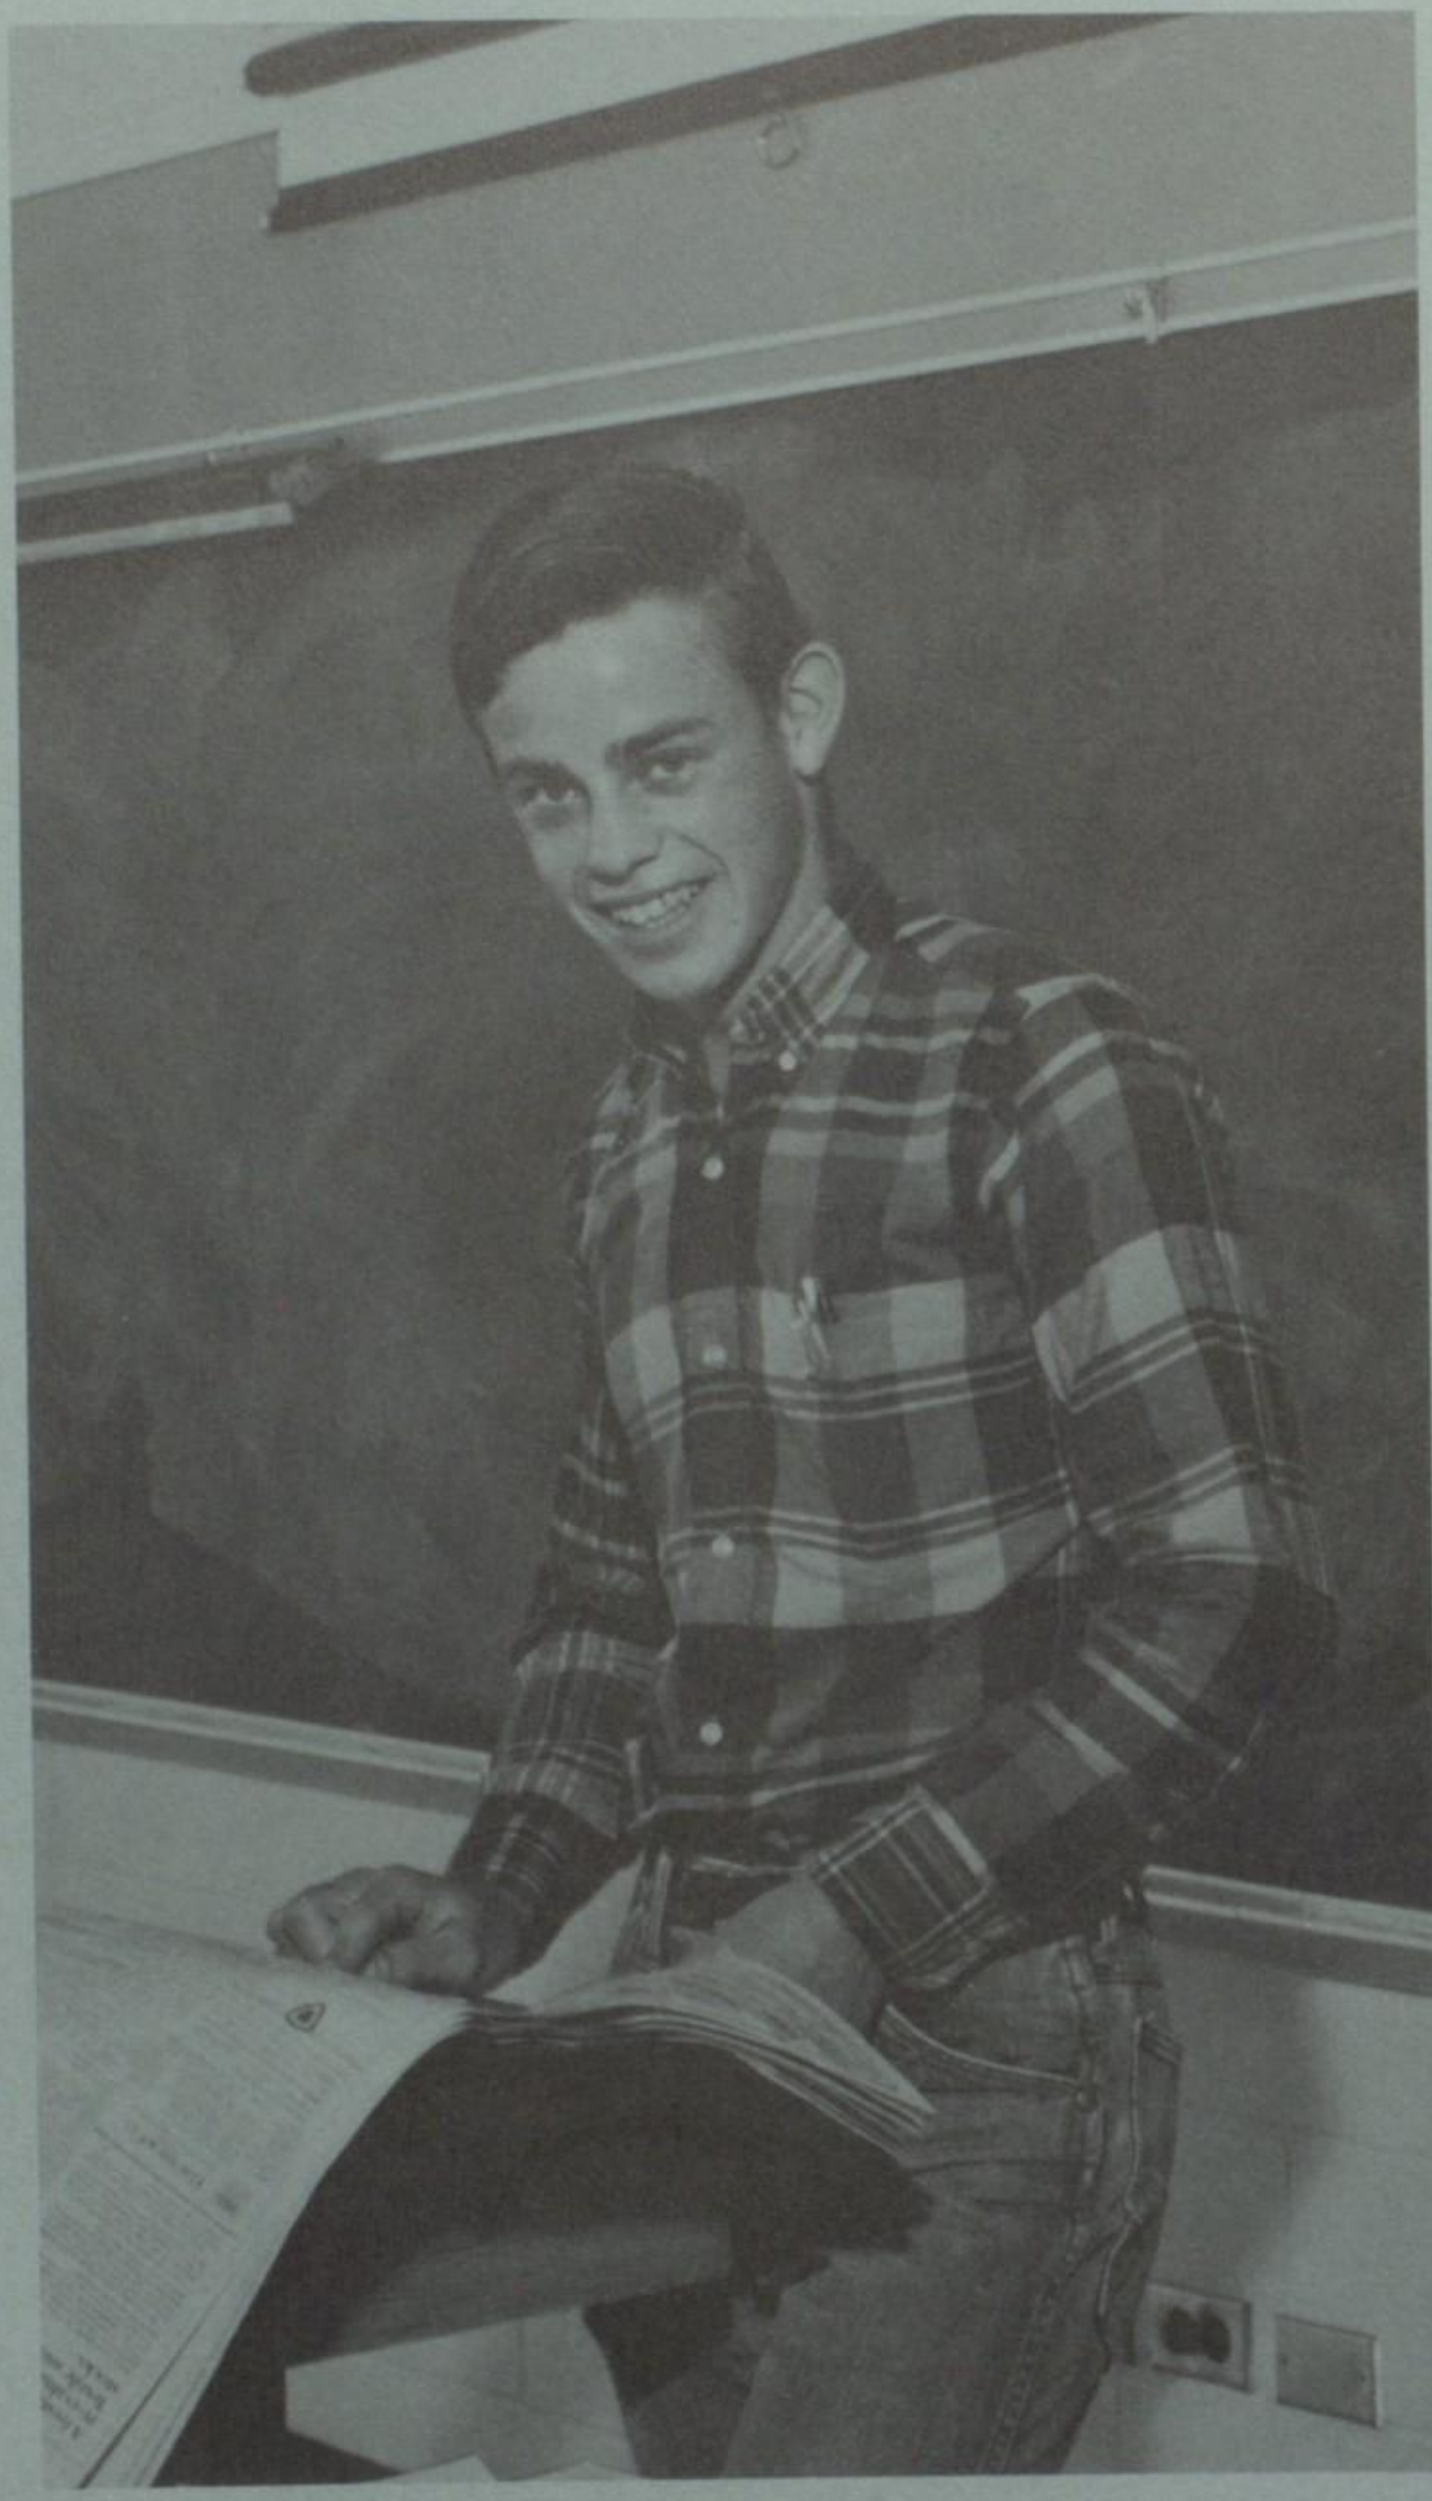
. . . emotions of Love and fear along with others shown, as you ask for their help, you realize, withholding tears, that you are all alone. it's sad that they, forboding say that nothing's doing; everything closed, it's like a ruin; everyone seen is fast asleep; now you're on your own, you're in the street . . .

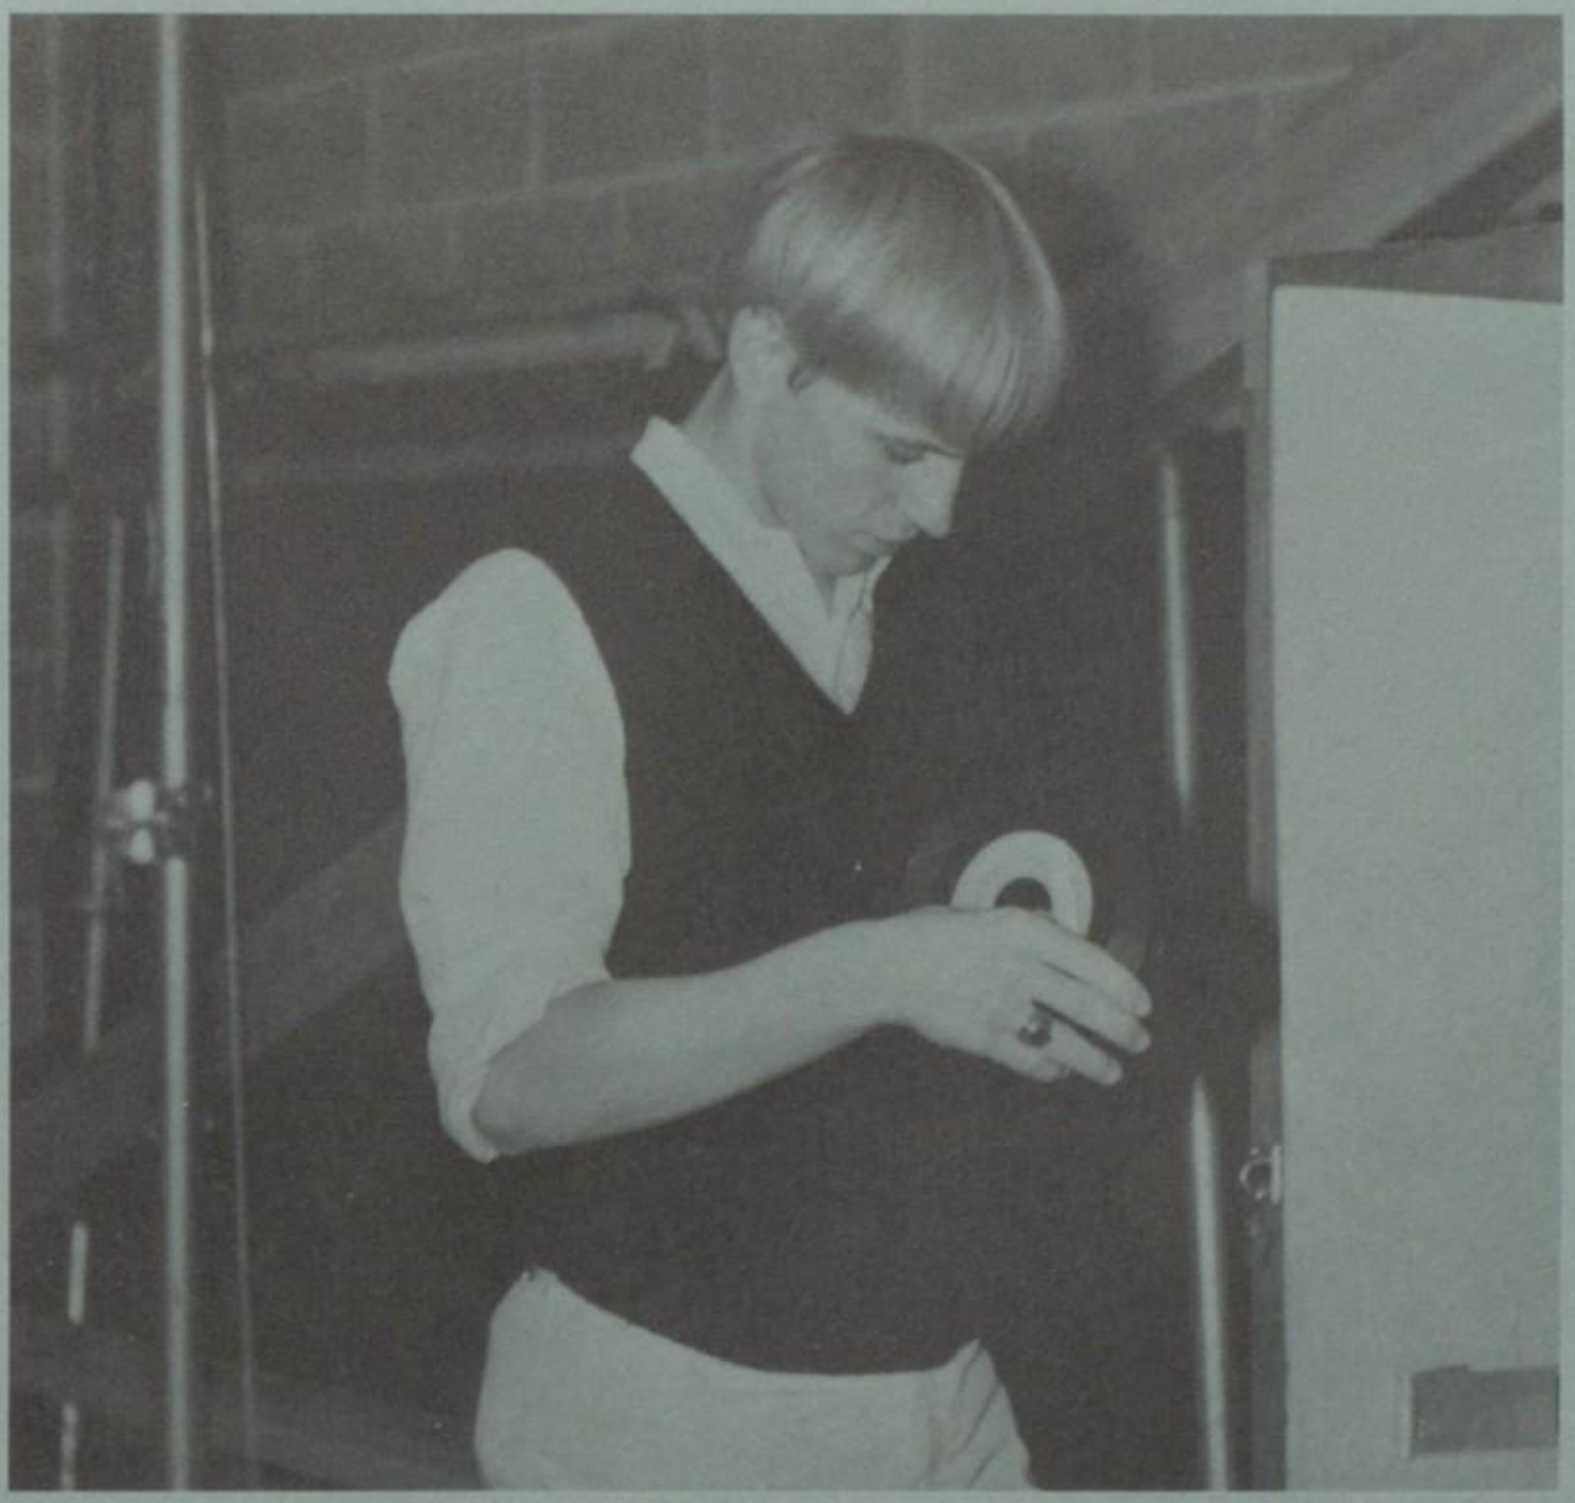


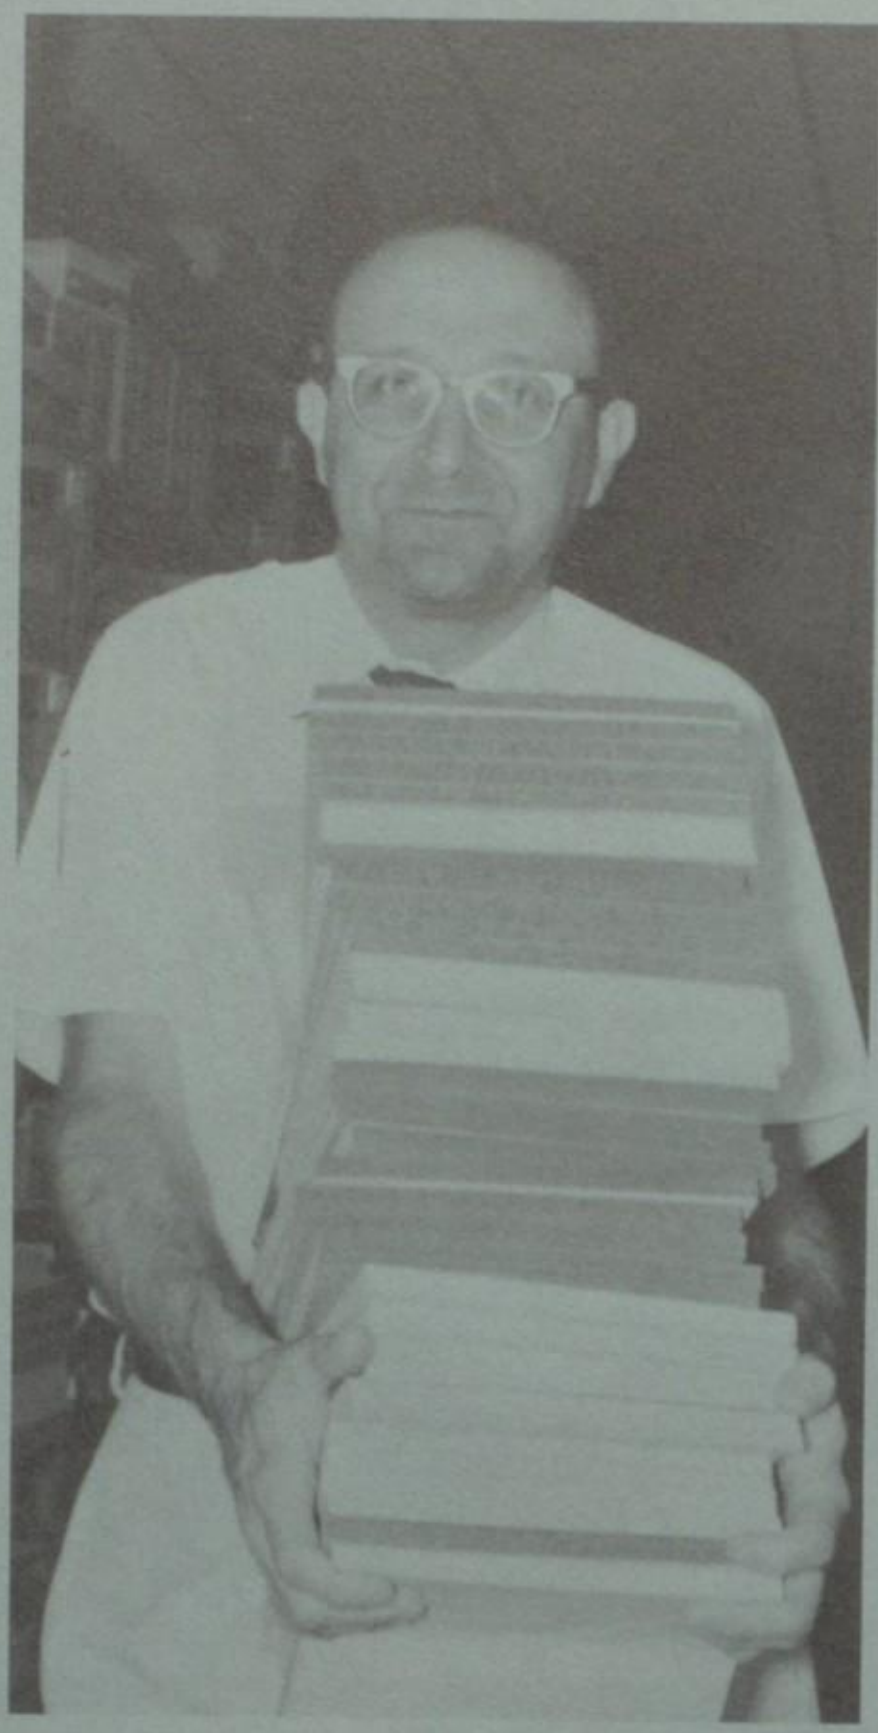
PEPSI



. . . so those of you dissenting and who without repenting, travel to the beat of that different drum; blossom then and seek the sun and with the conquest done, come follow me in eternity . . .







. . . and when they ask, "what do you want to be, now that you know who you are, and have you traveled very far?" tell them then,

"as far as the eyes can see, to fields of strawberries whirled, ergo i want to be . . .

. . . a man in this world."

Most of his life is spent working. Yet, still he finds time to attend club meetings, baseball games, and concerts. Truly, man lives in an active world.

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

One of the most vital organizations of T.H.S. is the Student Council. A student from each section of every grade is represented in the council. These representatives are elected during the third week of school in fall.

The Student Council wishes to develop attitudes of, and practice in good citizenship. Members also hope to improve school morale, assist in the management of the school, provide a forum for student expression, provide orderly direction of school activities, and promote the general welfare of the school.

All powers are delegated to the Student Council by the school administration. Any acts may be rejected by the principal. The council meets bimonthly.

Activities sponsered by this group are diversified. Several dances held throughout the school term are supported by the Student Council. Other items of importance are: organizing the talent show and scheduling sock hops and pep rallies. The latter is planned in conjunction with the Pep Club.

The students' wants and needs are the concern of the council, which attempts to satisfy these desires. Members of the council strive to produce responsible citizens in our growing world.

Library Club

A good library is of great importance to any educational institution. The true value of a library depends on more than the amount of books that are housed within its walls. These books must be readily available to the individual who has need of them. For this reason good librarians are a vital part of a library.

The Library Club is a service organization designed to provide assistance for the librarian. Some of these helpful services performed by the members are: registering books, decorating bulletin boards and showcases, and cataloguing the new books. The interest stimulated by this club, hopefully will cause many to consider careers as librarians.

Students in grades nine through twelve are eligible to join the organization. Another requirement is the maintainence of average grades in school work. At present the total membership is 68.

Special activities of the Library Club include: a tea held for the faculty in order to familarize them with the new books, and a picnic at the end of the school year. They also participate in the celebration of National Library Week and Book Week.

Future Teachers Of America

The Future Teachers of America provides the aspiring teacher with an insight into the challenging career of teaching. Through lectures and group discussions the student receives information on the problems and rewards encountered in the profession. He may also ascertain the educational requirements needed for his particular area of interest.

A member of the F.T.A. gains firsthand experience through student teaching. After choosing the class of his interest, he works out a detailed lesson plan for the subjects he will teach. The sophomores are limited in this capacity in that they observe a teacher and his methods of teaching. Junior and senior members teach the class they select.

In addition to this, the F.T.A. sponsors various social activities held during the school year. These include an activity night in September, a record hop held in October, and the F.T.A. banquet in May. On the last day of school the club holds its annual picnic, where members indulge in outdoor activities and good food.

Mrs. Sara B. Clements and Mr. William H. Kaiser, Advisers.

Future Farmers Of America

Tulpehocken High School is situated in a fertile area of Berks County. Farmlands can be seen in all directions from the school. Many students at T.H.S. reside on farms or in rural areas. Since the pupils live in an agricultural environment, the Future Farmers of America is a popular organization.

Advisers of this club are Mr. Mike Orendo and Mr. Gerald Seiler. Boys in grades nine through twelve are eligible to join. Membership holds up to three years after graduation.

F.F.A. encourages members to develop good farm programs and cooperative enterprises. This organization provides a stimulus for one to develop his character, and above all good citizenship. In addition to this, F.F.A.'s main purpose is to produce rural agricultural leadership.

Special activities presented throughout the year include: a parent-son banquet, an assembly program during National F.F.A. Week, and a chicken barbecue on the last day of school.

Mary Gogets presents an F.F.A. jacket to the new sweetheart, Lucille Weaver.

During National F.F.A. Week the members put on an assembly program for the student body.

Future Business Leaders Of America

One of the newly organized clubs at T.H.S., the Future Business Leaders of America, is composed of students interested in a career in business.

The organization's main purpose is to develop a deep interest in the participation of worthy undertakings beneficial to both business and the community. On the individual basis, they are hopeful of producing competent business leadership and strong self-confidence in themselves and their work.

There are presently twenty-three members in the organization. The officers are: Mary Gogets, president; Shirley Moyer, vice-president; Sheila Miller, secretary; Susan Schaeffer, treasurer; and Darlene Bohn, reporter. Mrs. Edelman and Mrs. Guthrie are the advisers. The organization has affiliations with the state and national F.B.L.A.

Planned special activities for this year include participating in regional and state meetings. The members also hope to serve by working on various community and school projects.

Future Nurses Of America

Beverly Schaeffer, Pres.; Dianne Kehler, Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Betty Orendo, Adviser.

In spite of countless discoveries and cures in the field of medicine, there is still a great demand for nurses in today's world.

The interest in nursing among a number of students resulted in the formation of a new club for T.H.S., the Future Nurses of America. It is composed of juniors and seniors interested in nursing. Although most members are actually considering a future career as a professional or practical nurse, other members may have interests,in various other aspects of the vast nursing field.

Debate Club

The individual's ability to face controversial matters is aroused in the Debate Club. Freedom of speech enables anyone to voice his opinions or make an honest attempt to answer intellectually.

Mr. Schwartz and Mr. Scarpignato advise this club, which consists of twelve members. Throughout the year the club sponsors one or two debate assemblies.

Ken Gehris, 12-2's stock club representative.

Stock Club

Michael Dosch and Mr. Scarpignato thoroughly study the ticker tape.

In today's world of rapidly rising economy, more people than ever before are making investments in businesses. The students of today, who are tomorrow's stockholders, need to be familiar with the complex world of the stock market.

In order to familiarize the students with this business aspect, the Stock Club was formed. During the senior's study of economics, attention is focused on the function of the stock market, making investments, and analyzing particular firms.

Through this club the seniors gain knowledge and experience in making decisions. In so doing the Stock Club helps the business world of tomorrow.

Each year at Tulpehocken High School, a group of girls is chosen from the senior class to serve as the school hostesses. These girls are chosen on the basis of outstanding scholastic achievement. Among the many duties of a hostess are attending all school functions, distributing the programs, collecting offerings, and serving as ushers, as well as performing the duties connected with the school assembly programs.

Hostesses

The Student Store is a necessary part of each student's world. Like most stores, it is operated in the hope of making a profit. This profit goes into the senior class' treasury, where it will help the seniors gain their class trip.

However, the Student Store also strives to create more school spirit by selling such items as school sweatshirts, school notebooks, and school beanies.

Darlene Bohn, Shirley Moyer, Mary Gogets, Mrs. Susan Edelman (missing), Adviser.

Fire Marshals

Working efficiently and swiftly to insure safe and proper evacuation of the building in the event of fire is the main objective of the Fire Marshals.

Having been trained by a representative of the Bernville Fire Company, they are a vital link in the safety of the student body and the school.

Bruce Billman aids Mr. Schwartz by securing the necessary audio visual equipment for him.

Audio Visual

With the demands for use of films, slides, records, and the like by modern education of today, students trained in the operation and proper maintenance of audio visual equipment are necessary for Tulpehocken High School.

Mr. Scheirer and Mr. Orendo advise these students. Two students per class are eligible. After training sessions they are capable of operating the equipment when requested for use in various classes.

An ultimate goal of the audio visual group is to have student trainers and a slate of officers.

First Row: Betty Mohn, Mary Gogets, Susan Schaeffer, Linda Wayne, Marjorie Wilhelm, Dianne Kehler.
Second Row: Richard Delp, Glenn Dieffenbach, Carl Brown, Rodney Speicher, Michael Sternberg, Edward Stump, Miss Margaret Beidler.

"Girls Will Be Girls" is a three act comedy by Donald Payton. It concerns the hilarious predicament that Betty Lou Maxwell, and her friend, Bernadine Smith, incur upon the Maxwell family, which almost costs John Maxwell his newly acquired position as head of the citizens' committee.

It all starts with a letter sent by the girls to a love-lorn columnist, Vester Blayne. And thus the chain of events begins that throws the whole Maxwell household into mass hysteria. First, Miss Blayne informs Mrs. Maxwell of her daughter's problem, and Mr. Maxwell accidently makes advances towards Miss Blayne, much to the disbelief of Mrs. Maxwell. Then we have the girls, along with Wilbur and Hercules, acting insane in front of Mr. Moore, current head of the citizens' committee, and Del Marshall, whom they believe to be a real marshal coming to get them. And finally, the accusing of Mr. Moore as being Betty Lou's lover by Miss Blayne and Aunt Mary.

However, as can be expected, the play's final note is a happy one. All are reconciled with the help of Craig Moore and Connie Maxwell, and Mr. Maxwell becomes the new head of the citizens' committee.

Miss Margaret Beidler, Director.

Stage Crew

The stage crew works behind the scenes during stage performances such as assemblies, and the senior play. The members of this group serve by regulating the sound, varying and intensifying the lighting effects, and moving scenery and props. Efficient performance of these duties results in the fullest enjoyment of the program for the audience. The group is advised by Mr. Kremser and Mr. Orendo.

Scott Keener proficiently controls the lighting effects.

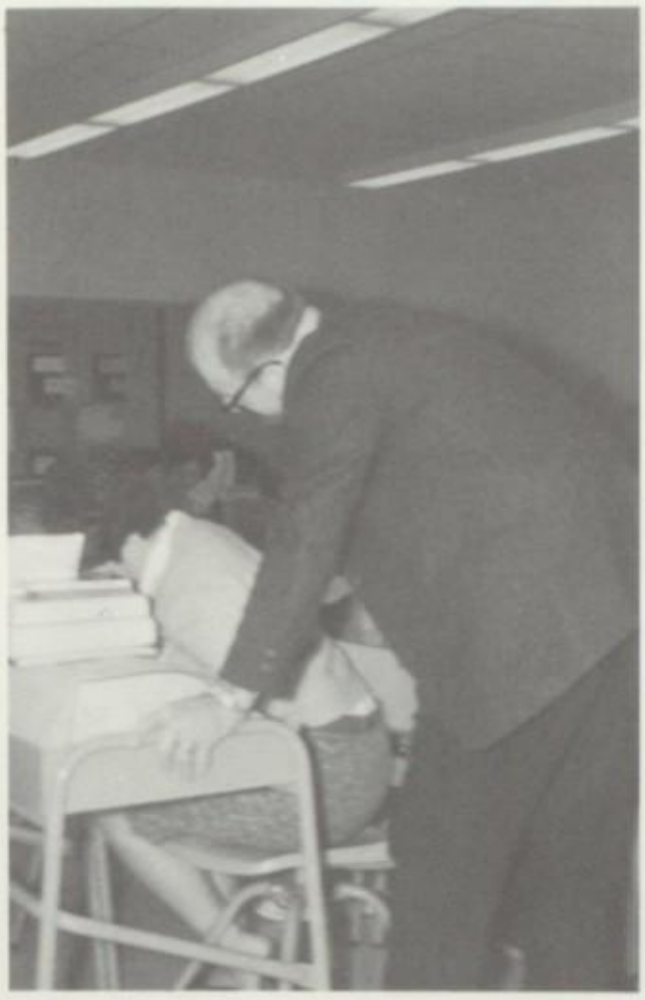
A foremost literary endeavor at our high school is the school newspaper. It is the result of much time and effort on the part of editors, staff members and advisers.

The Iliad is an overall coverage of school activities. One major responsibility of all members is the meeting of deadlines. A special feature is the exchange news of other school newspapers. The editors and staff attempt to improve each issue, and from this effort, they hope to produce a publication of which the entire school can be proud.



Advisers oversee the final reproduction of copy.

The class of '68 will always want to cherish the memories of their final year. The contents of the 1968 Dardanian are so designed to present these recollections through pictures.

The initial work commenced after the formation of the staff in the spring of 1967, with Mr. Hoffman and Mrs. Kline as advisors. Some of the members attended a yearbook convention held at Hershey, Penna., which helped to familiarize the staff with many of the aspects of creating a good yearbook. Summer meetings enabled the staff to decide on a theme and to organize the basic skeletal framework.

When school began, greater challenges were introduced as the staff worked hard to meet its deadlines.

As any member of the staff will confirm, producing a yearbook requires much work, but the final outcome is very rewarding.

Writing good copy is a hard and tedious job.

Junior Dardanian Staff

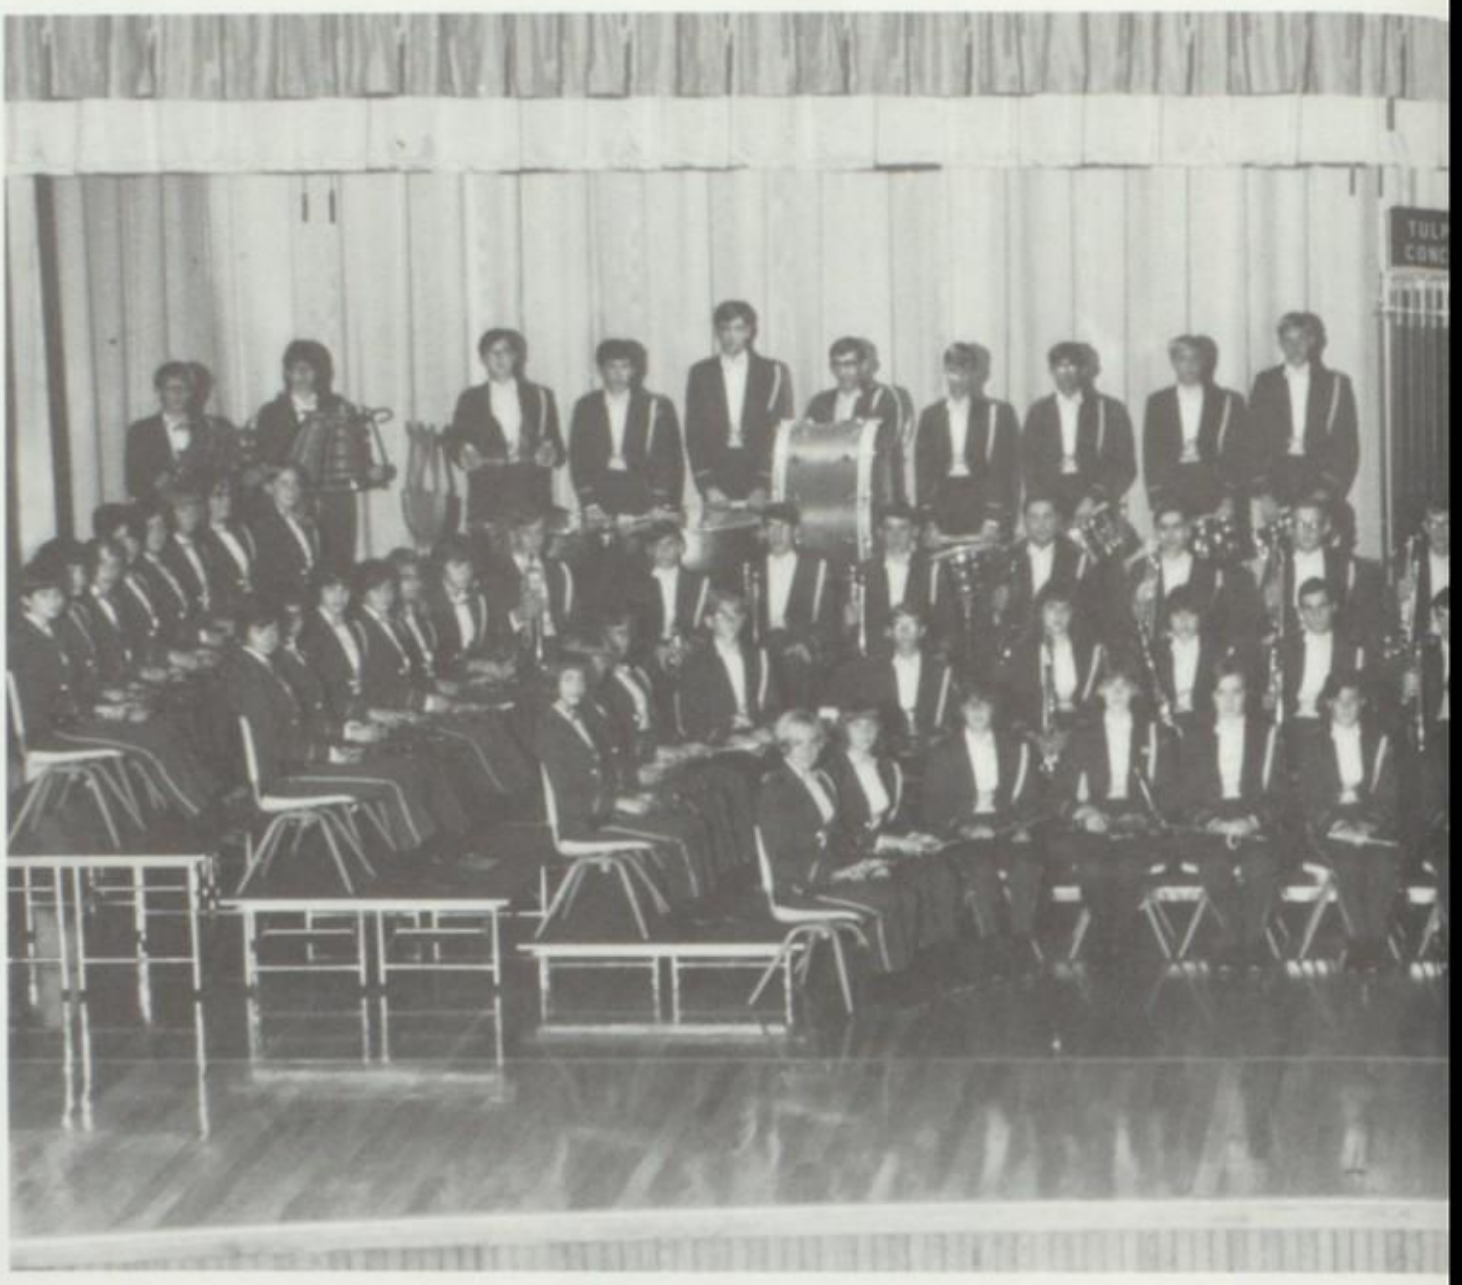
A new idea used this year was the addition of 11th grade understudies. They helped with some of the minor tasks and thereby gained some knowledge of producing a yearbook before they are actually faced with forming their own book. This should prove to make the work of the advisors easier when the staff of the 1969 Dardanian begins functioning. They will already be familiar with all aspects involved in creating a yearbook.

Identifying pictures is part of a junior staff member's job.

Music, a basic part of the atmosphere in the world around us, exhibits man's creative talents. As in all the arts, trends are set and broken, while music itself continues as a form of self-expression.

MUSIC

Hard Work Produces



At the beginning of each school year, uniforms must be issued to the band members.

The band serves as a form of expression for those students who are musically inclined. It also provides listening enjoyment for those who attend the annual concert and parades.

However, concert quality is not achieved without a great amount of work. The musician must work diligently to prepare his own portion of the program so that when he performs with the group, he will blend in and execute his part properly.

The excellence of the band is determined by the individual, according to how willing he is to sacrifice time and effort to maintain a level of efficiency. His only reward is the satisfaction of a performance well-done.

This year the marching band participated in three parades. The first, on September 30, was at the Pretzel Bowl game at Albright College. The annual pageantry consists of a parade in Reading in the morning, and half-time ceremony in which all participants mass together to play three marches.

In May, the band took part in Memorial Day parades held in Bernville and Frystown.

No doubt, the musical feature of the year is the Night of Music. This year, in order to prepare a program more worthy of the public's attention, a weekly, morning rehearsal was added. Those who attended the 7:30 A. M. sessions found that it served to improve the general sound of the band.

Highlighting this year's program were such numbers as "Clarinet Candy," "Diversion," and "Night Beat," featuring the majorettes.

Many band members attended the early morning rehearsals.

Chorus members carefully examine potential music for the Christmas concert.

Students passing through the halls at the west end of the building on a Friday, first period, were often entertained by the sound of the senior chorus rehearsing. Formerly 100 voices in number, the group has expanded to 137 because of the interest shown by the students.

For the Christmas Choral Concert, on December 21, the group prepared such difficult selections as "Holiday," and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "The Messiah." These plus others lent to the holiday spirit at T.H.S.

The Chorus also presented half the program for the annual Night of Music, April 5. "And the Glory of the Lord" and "The Creation" by Willy Richter highlighted this performance.

Girls Have Dismal Season

The Trojanettes experienced a discouraging 1–1–4 season this year. They were late in coming through with the right effort and found the opposition stiff.

However, the team is to be commended, considering the loss of eight of last year's starters. The girls made valiant efforts, but had to relinquish the Western Division Championship this year.

Girls who came through in scoring were Joenita Shilling and Gloria Breidegam.

Trojans Lose Berks

Mr. Paul Wentling, Mr. Harry Kline, Coaches.

The soccer team relinquished the Berks County championship for the first time in seven years. After getting off to an unaccustomed slow start, the team finished the last five games of the season by winning three and tying two. Overall, the team won three, lost four, and tied two. The boys fought hard and they deserved to win more games than they did. The team will miss the performances of four members of the backfield next year —Harold Noll, Larry Farnsworth, Mike Brungart, and Glenn Balthaser, and lineman Dennis Schucker. However, the rest of the team is young and promises to be in the thick of things next year.

Larry Zellers, Rodney Olesh, John Schaeffer, Dennis Schucker, Dennis Boehmer, Linemen.

Team Is Able But Unsuccessful

Joenita Shilling, Co-captain; Miss Linda Edris, Coach; Janice Frantz, Co-captain.

The Trojanettes fought through a despairing 0–6 season on the basketball court this year. Ability was sufficient, but the girls were unsuccessful against all opponents.

The team lacked depth, for only five girls returned from last year's squad. The majority of the team was comprised of freshmen and sophomores; so if these girls continue in the future, Miss Edris will be able to build a stronger team.

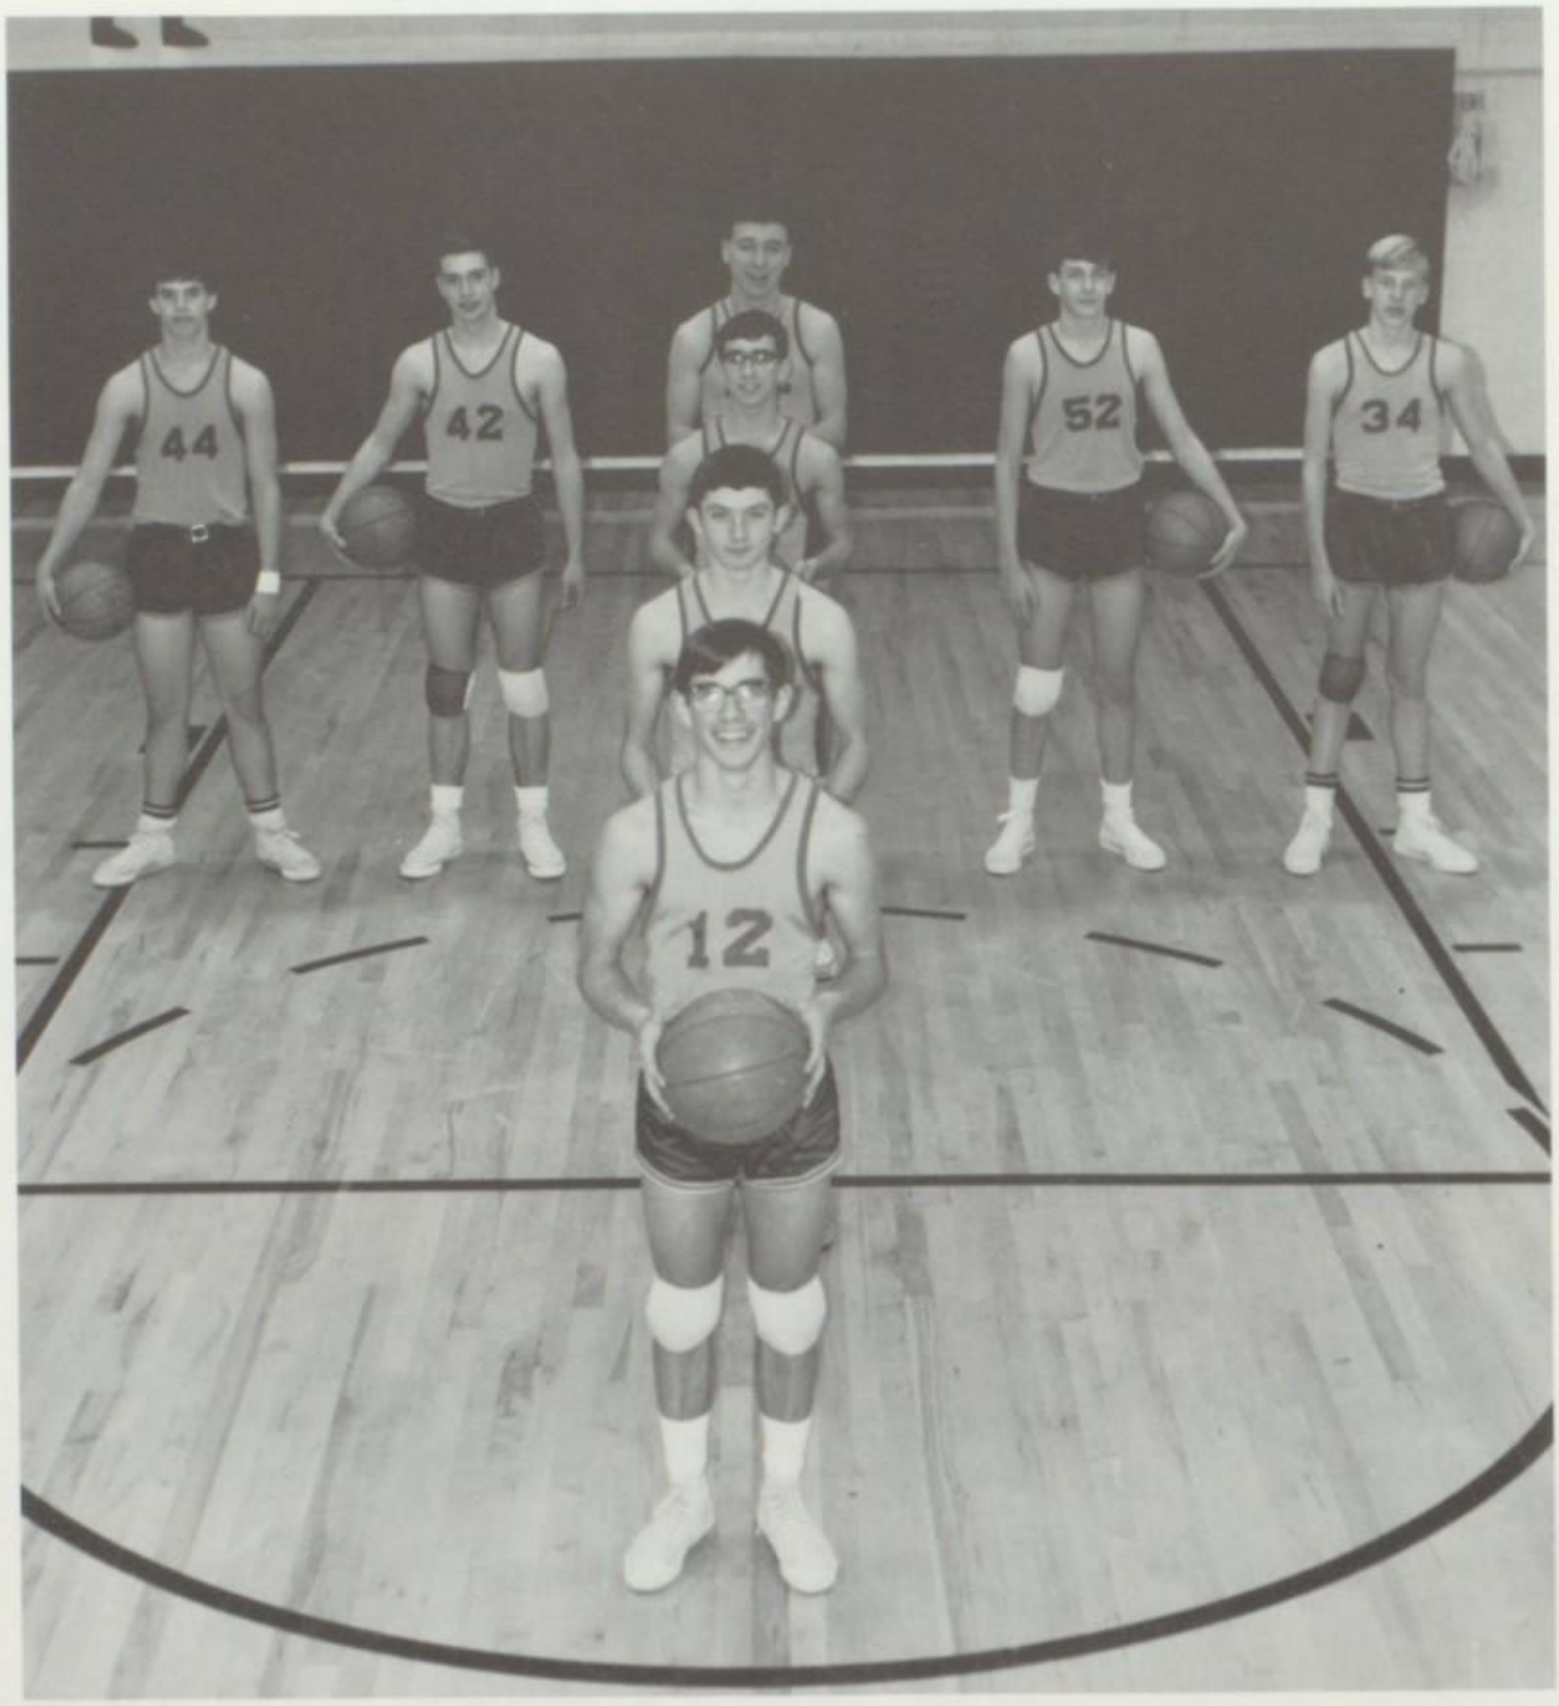
Team Defeats



Front to Back: Richard Reber, John Wenrich, Larry Zellers, Harold Noll. Across: Michael Himmelreich, Kenneth Noecker, Lynn Schaeffer, George Wagner.

The highlight of a disappointing season was a 53–48 victory over arch rival Elco. The team showed a significant improvement since last year, and next year promises to be even better because only one starter, center Harold Noll, will be lost. The juniors and sophomores on the team this season proved that they have the ability to score points, and they should improve by next season.

This was the wrestling team's first year in league competition under Mr. Edward Crim's guidance. They responded by beating Exeter by a score of 28–23. The most capable wrestlers on the team, judged by their number of victories, were John Schaeffer and John Olesh. John Olesh advanced to the District I finals in the heavyweight division, only to be defeated. The majority of the team will remain to better their record next year.

Girls Win Trophies

Etta Ebling

The Trojanettes experienced an undefeated season in league competition this year. The intracounty league consists of six teams from Berks and Lebanon Counties. The only losses were both to Hershey. These were non-league matches.

Coach Harnly's girls put forth a great effort to earn possession of a rotating trophy provided by the Winthrop Laboratories. A team must win the championship two years in a row in order to be able to keep the trophy permanently. Each of the girls also received an individual trophy.

Miss Linda Edris, Coach.

This year a new sport was added to the girls' program. Girls' track has been around the county for several years, but this has been the first year for Tulpehocken.

For the past few years Schuylkill Valley has sponsored an annual invitational track meet. Girls from all over the county participated.

Because of the new experiences concerning the events and competition, the girls returned with only one fifth-place point. Diane Stamm came through in the softball throw for the one point.

This year the cheerleaders, both Junior Varsity and Varsity have come up with some bright new cheers and routines. Their precision performances at soccer and basketball games and pep rallies have helped spark school spirit and have urged the Trojans on to victory.

Attired in their new uniforms, the Varsity cheerleaders have shown true style in the "Number Cheer" and "Go, Fight, Win."

Part of this is due to a cheerleading clinic held at Reading High School which some of the girls attended. While there, they observed new formations and cheers, some of which the girls have put to use.

STUDENT LIFE

As a student travels the path to becoming a part of man's world he participates in various activities. He leads a life of emotion; love, fear, comfort, and often discouragement. It becomes an enjoyable experience for teachers to watch him as he pursues his everyday activities with the spirit of youth.

STUDENT LIFE

Jimmy DiRaddo enthusiastically discusses the six "dirty" words.

In mid-January Jimmy DiRaddo came to THS to discuss teenage problems with the students. His main topics of discussion were the six "dirty" words: think, study, discipline, respect, obedience, and responsibility. Another word included in his discussion was work.

On February 13, 1968, the student body was entertained by the "Teeny Weeny Brass," an instrumental group comprised of six students from Hamburg High School.

The brass instruments comprised an integral part of the group.

Among the selections played were "The Lonely Bull" and "Spanish Flea".

Mr. Richard Oswald explains the fundamentals of soccer.

Sports Assembly

Hockey certificates are presented to the girls by Miss Edris.

Mr. Kline congratulates the boys after presenting the soccer awards.

Tulpehocken was the host for a concert presented by the Edgewood Arsenal Army Band.

Army Band Assembly

One of our many assemblies included the visit and performance of the 327th Army Band from Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland. They entertained us with a wide selection of numbers, including solos and several novelty songs.

"Buglers' Holiday" was one of the musical numbers featured.

The band's many varied selections constituted an entertaining assembly program.

Marianne Zerbe, THS Junior Miss.

Junior Miss competition in Berks County is annually sponsored by the local Jaycees. Representatives from twenty-one different high schools in Berks County compete in the pageant. Each contestant is judged in the specific fields of scholarship, youth fitness, and the creative and performing arts. Personal interviews, poise, and personality also comprise an integral part of the contestant's final judging.

Three contenders for the title of THS Junior Miss are selected by the direct balloting of the class. These three then undergo the first part of the competition and the best one of the three is chosen to represent our school in the County pageant. Marianne Zerbe won the title of Junior Miss of Tulpehocken High School.

Marianne performs her talent during the pageant's festivities.

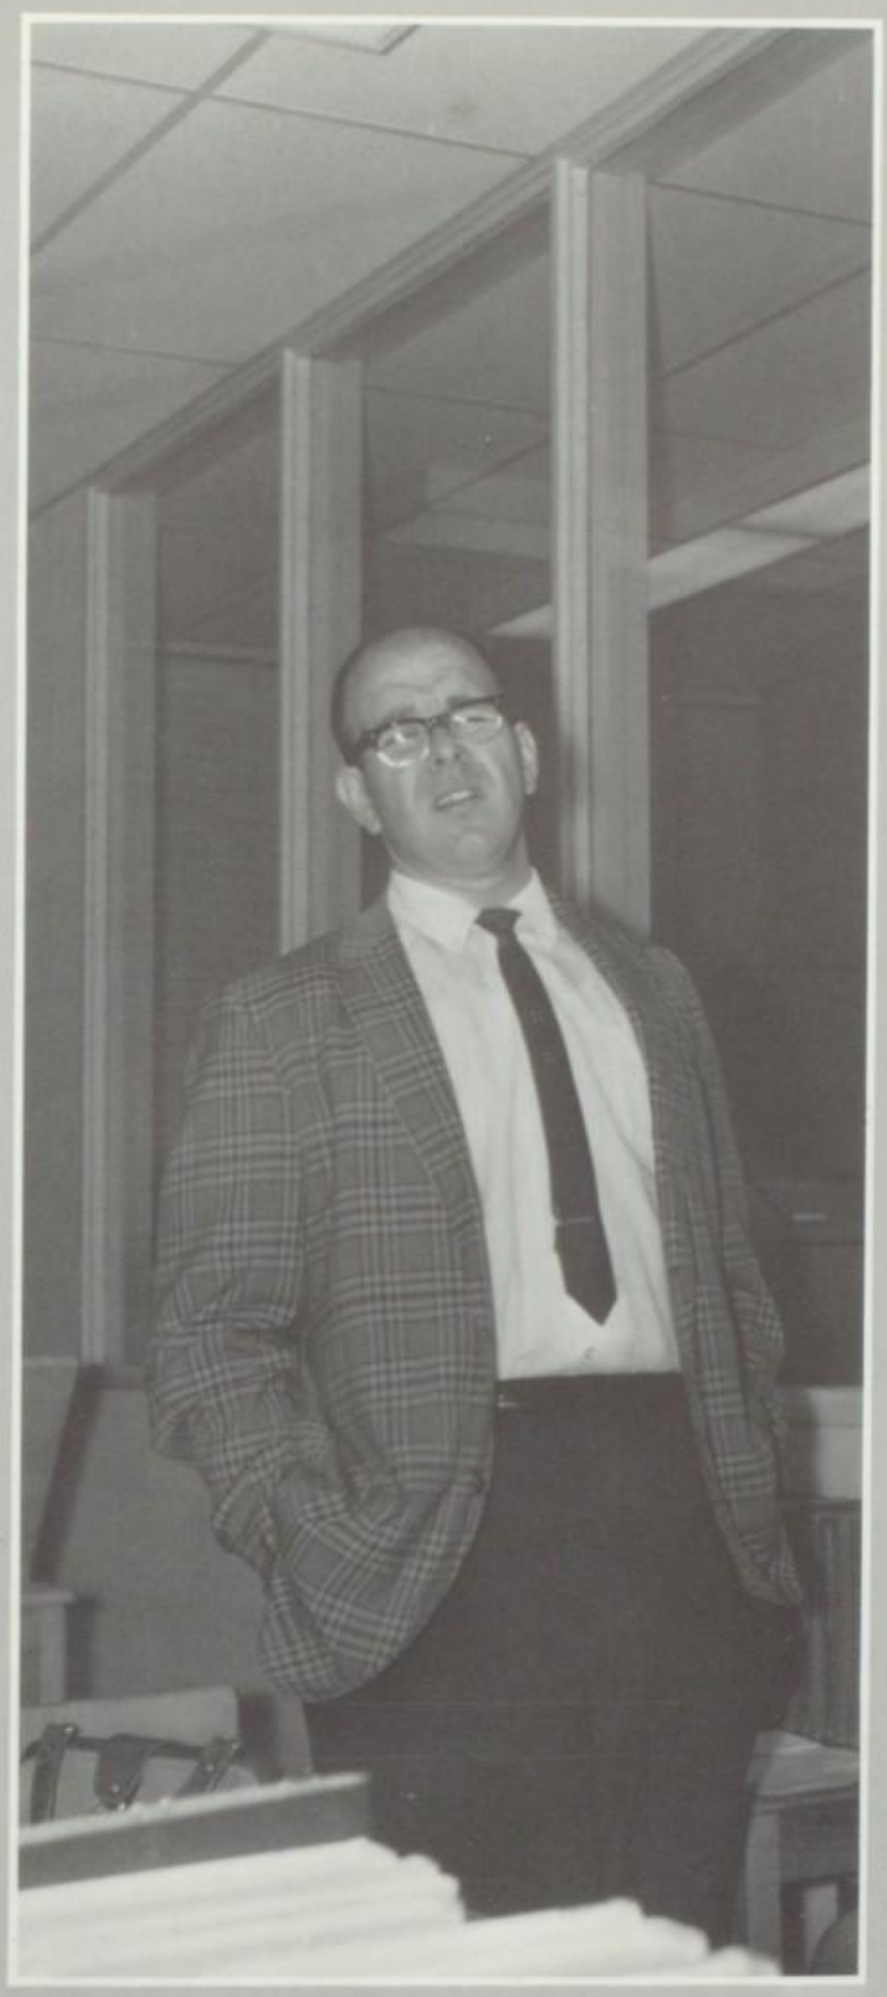
CLARKE



THE FACULTY—

Their education accomplished, they have dedicated their lives to teaching mathematics, history, English and other subjects. But most important of all, they teach the student to think. This is the basis of their profession, and truly they are professionals!

ADMINISTRATION

English

In man's fast-moving world one must be able to communicate clearly and effectively. Man's methods of self-expression must be developed in composition, as well as in oral presentation. This is accomplished through the enlargement of a working vocabulary, increased knowledge in the fundamentals of English grammar, appreciation of world literature, and creative writing.

In addition to the regular English courses offered, the new elective Speech class is an important key in helping its participants excel in public speaking and the correct use of the English language.

Languages

Language is the universal tool for communication between man and his surrounding world. It is the Language Department that provides the student with a means of understanding the language and the cultural heritage of several of these people. German, Latin, and the new elective, Spanish, are the three areas offered in this department.

Producing a profound effect upon the student's learning of a particular language, the language laboratory helps him in pronunciation of the specific tongue by the use of tapes, recorded in the native language.

Films of graded difficulty and other audio-visual materials also increase the student's general knowledge and comprehension of the language.

Much of a teacher's time is spent preparing lessons and correcting papers.

Mrs. Laura B. Lutz
German
Spanish

Math

The Mathematics Department provides a firm mathematical background for the student. Freshmen and sophomores are taught algebra, the basic structure which is needed for all higher math courses, while juniors are given the fundamentals of geometry. In their senior year, the students study trigonometry. This year a new math elective, advanced math, was offered to seniors.

Throughout these four years the student not only learns formulas and theorems, but also how to apply these ideas.

Science

The Science Department helps the student understand the basic concepts of his world. In ninth and tenth grades the student learns the fundamentals of biology and earth and space science. As a junior he studies chemistry. Finally in his senior year he approaches physics.

Biology furnishes the student with information about himself and other organisms affecting his daily life. It also provides a thorough background for more advanced studies in this field of science.

Chemistry acquaints the student with the complex world of elements and chemical substances.

Physics primarily aims at providing the senior with a substantial knowledge of his physical world.

Modern, advanced textbooks, student-conducted experiments, and various audio-visual presentations are combined to produce complete and educational science courses.

Studies

During a time when world affairs are becoming a more integral part of each man's life, a better appreciation of the world's cultural heritage, along with a deep understanding of his own society, is a necessity.

In accordance with the above requirements, social studies begin with our national, state, and local governments, and are also extended to include the study of world cultures.

Seniors are offered a combined course of Economics and Problems of Democracy, which enables them to get a broader picture of the various political and economical structures within our own country and the world.

Sociology, initiated into this department this semester, offers the students a better understanding of man's social relationships as they are related to our democratic environment.

Music

The Music Department, under the supervision of Mr. Kremser, provides a cultural background for the student interested in music. From elementary to secondary school, student participation in music has been increasing. This shows evidence of the large amount of enthusiasm for the music program.

There are many segments of the Music Department. Chorus, concert band, and marching band are the backbone of it. In addition to heading these, Mr. Kremser also teaches the ninth graders some of the music fundamentals.

Library Science

The library is of major importance to the students of Tulpehocken High School. It provides varied materials that will supplement the knowledge which the students gain in the classroom.

Along with helping the students find materials in the library, the librarian assists them in developing an efficient system of research work. Utilizing the numerous types of books, the librarian tries to instill an appreciation of literature in the students.

Mr. Harry E. Ebling, Supervising Principal.

The duties of the Supervising Principal of our school district are many and varied. Mr. Harry E. Ebling is responsible for selecting suitable candidates for teaching positions and presenting them to the School Board; he prepares all state and federal reports for the district, coordinates federal programs, manages the business and finances of the school, and works with the Department of Public Instruction on all local matters. In general, he is responsible for the overall operation of the school.

Mr. Earl C. Koenig, Assistant Supervising Principal.

Mr. Koenig, the Assistant Supervising Principal of Tulpehocken Area Schools, aids Mr. Ebling in the performance of his duties, especially in the implementation of the various aspects of the school program with emphasis on curriculum coordination.

This year his most important project is "A Long Range Developmental Program" for our school district as assigned by the Department of Public Instruction.

Among his many responsibilities are the developing and the appraisal of the effectiveness of our educational system, handling teacher personnel, attendance and discipline of the students, and certain clerical duties. He also works in conjunction with the other members of the Administrative Department in order to present a more complete and meaningful education to the students.

Mr. Harold E. Matthew, High School Principal.

The major purpose of the Guidance Department is to help each individual student decide where his interests and abilities lie and help him plan his future career. Through personal counseling, Mr. Harner studies the various talents of each student to help him find the career for which he is most suited. As adviser to the student council, Mr. Harner aids in the operation of this vitally important student organization. He also administers various testing programs throughout the year.

Mr. Robert R. Harner, Guidance Counselor.

Secretaries

Miss Jean L. Miller

Three of the busiest people to be found at Tulpehocken High School are the secretaries, Mrs. Kline, Mrs. Keeney, and Miss Miller. Their duties include preparing daily bulletins and absentee lists, totaling the lunch count, and receiving and forwarding telephone messages. Major duties consist of keeping accounts balanced, preparing teachers' checks, ordering supplies, and keeping the office running in an orderly fashion.

Health

Mrs. Irene W. Haag tests Betty Mohn's hearing.

Many hours are spent testing pupils' visions.

Dr. Peter T. Pugliese

Service

Health records must be accurate and up to date.

Mrs. Betty L. Orendo takes Leonard Fisher's blood pressure.

Modern, efficient medical facilities are made available to the members of the student body every day. Comprising the medical staff of Tulpehocken High School are Dr. Peter Pugliese and his two assistants, Mrs. Haag and Mrs. Orendo. One of the three is always present to administer proper treatment for any serious injuries or ailments that may occur during the course of the school day.

Dr. Pugliese gives Timothy Porter a physical examination.

Mrs. Helen Schlappich, Cafeteria Manager.

The daily routine of the cafeteria staff is to present well-balanced lunches to the students. It is the responsibility of Mrs. Helen Schlappich, cafeteria manager, to plan meals which include all the basic nutrients.

The services of Mrs. Helen Schlappich and her efficient staff can never be fully appreciated.

Cafeteria

Freshmen get acquainted with the cafeteria procedures.

Cleaning up is a part of a cook's job.

A great deal of food is required to feed 500 students.

Each day much time and effort is required of the cafeteria staff.

THE SENIOR–

He has passed through three phases of education, and has learned anew in each. Yet, for all his learning, he insists that he dislikes school and will be glad to graduate. When graduation comes he is sad. Where will he go after his first three months of freedom? To the fourth phase of education–LIFE!

SENIORS

Our class president, Daniel Reynolds, crowned the Prom queen, Cheryl Stamm.

The Prom queen and her royal court occupied seats overlooking their subjects.

Prom-goers will find it hard to forget this enchanted evening.

Elysian Fantasy

Last year's Prom reproduced the beauty and splendor of ancient Greece. Those attending Elysian Fantasy found the recreation of a Grecian temple. Columns, an indoor garden scene, Grecian urns, and torches enhanced the area, producing an ethereal atmosphere. Colorful murals depicting Greek gods and goddesses decorated the walls.

The evening was climaxed by the crowning of the Prom queen, Cheryl Stamm, by her official escort, Dan Reynolds. The reigning queen's court included Audrey Bashore, Barbara Hartz, Laura Bausman, Emily Rissinger, and their official escorts Larry Farnsworth, Mike Sternberg, Glenn Dieffenbach, and Broxton Sherman respectively.

"Couples danced among the columns on the softly lighted dance floor."

Many long hours were spent in making decorations for the Prom.

Don Peebles and his Orchestra.

Everyone seemed to be having a good time.

Couples danced among the columns on the softly lighted dance floor to the sound of Don Peebles and his Orchestra.

The Prom proved to be the social highlight of the entire season. It is hoped that these pages will help the students to long remember the magic moments of this enchanting evening.

Hostesses chat during a break in the festivities.

We received our diplomas from Mr. Koenig.

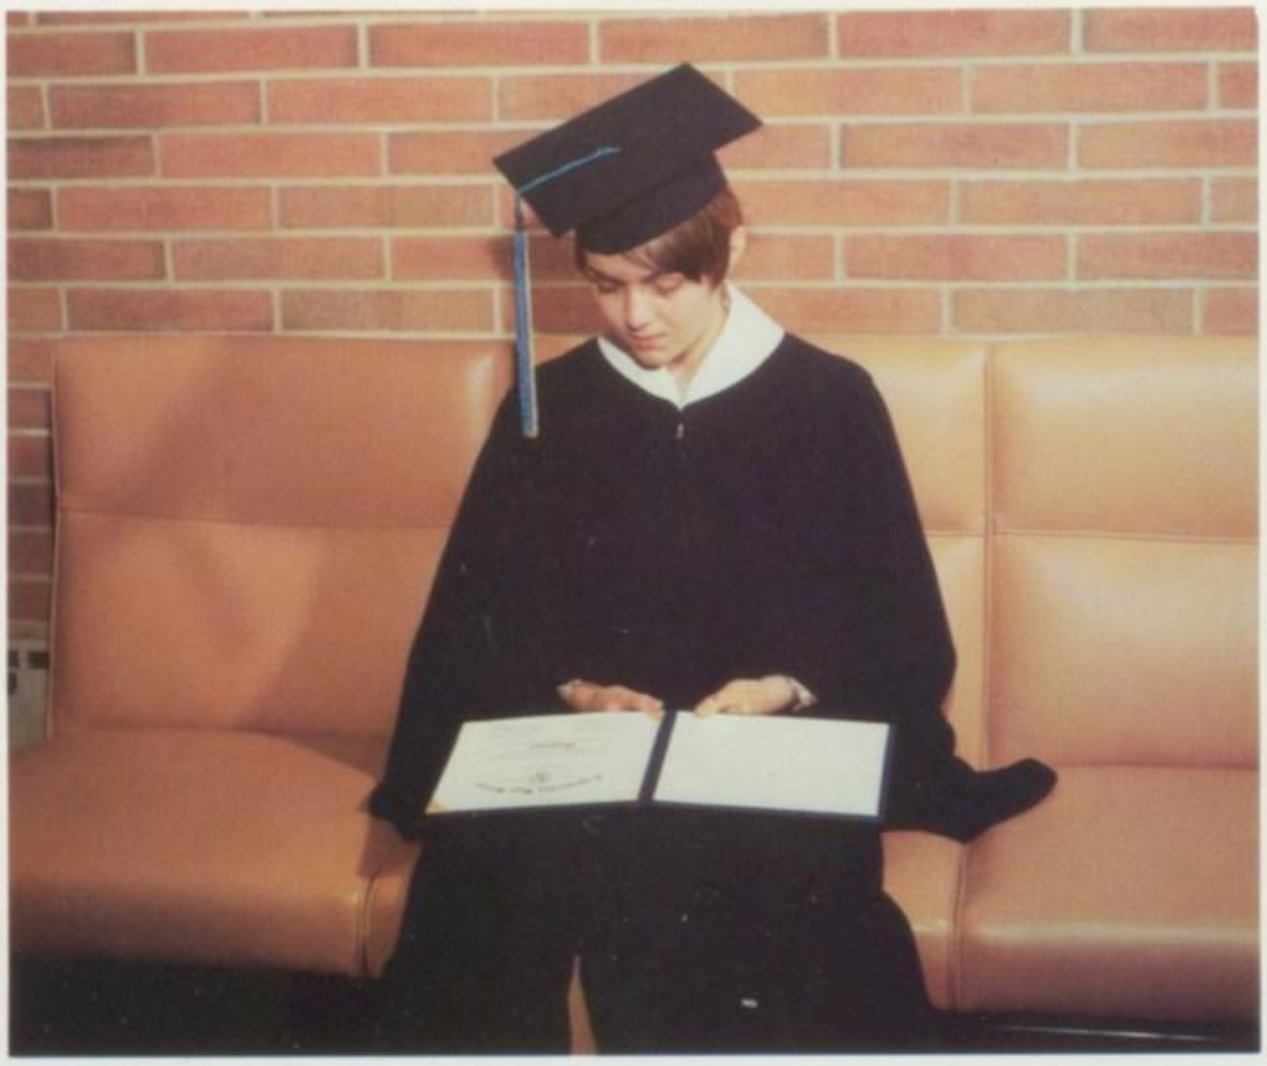
Mr. Ebling was one of our speakers.

Commencement

Commencement is the beginning of a new life for the departing senior. He no longer has the school to depend upon for something to do. He must go out and make his own livelihoood. He can no longer look to the teachers and administrators for guidance. He must be his own judge of character and make his own decisions.

These past twelve years have helped us establish a good sense of values, provided us with a foundation for the future and the incentive to become the best possible citizens we can.

Before commencement.



Afterwards.

What did you say?

Our champ, Betty Mohn.

In the corner again, Dianne?

LOUDER.

Two hundred three, two hundred . . .

If I hide behind here, I can get out of K. P.

Shh! No Talking.

Would you believe he's on our wrestling team?

All right, which one of you did it?

I didn't do it!

Our class custodians, Joenita and Janet.
